Does anyone out there have an e-mail address for the Engineering
Department of the EIA (Electronics Industries Association) in Washington DC.

Thanks,

That's the right attitude!

What if.....

I couldn't pass the BAR because I didn't know anything about criminal law, should
I be allowed to practice any law?
I couldn't back up a tractor/trailer rig, should I be given an over the road truck driver's license?
I couldn't name all the bones in the body, should I be allowed to practice medicine?
I couldn't learn to receive Morse code, should I be allowed to get a ham license that would require the code?

But I only wanted to.....

practice divorce law.
drive forward.
do brain surgery.
talk on the radio.

And I'm a real nice/knowledgeable/intelligent person and would be an asset to the legal/truck driving/medical/ham community.

Everything in life has its requirements, we meet those requirements or don't participate.
